2. Behavioural Guidelines & Expectations

All team members agree to uphold the following standards for the duration of ECE 597B.

2.1 Communication Expectations

Punctuality (meetings & deadlines): arrive early if you need to set-up. Meetings will start for the exact time scheduled.

How concerns or issues should be raised: the current week's Team Lead will be responsible for addressing any concerns raised.

Process for handling emergencies or absences: alert the Team Lead prior to the absence or scheduled meeting time. Emergency situations related to individual safety, health, or family emergency are exempt from any disciplinary actions put forth in this charter.

2.2 Quality of Work

Minimum quality standards: specific documentation of LLM usage, test locally before pushing to main repo, document commits with detailed message.

Peer review process: test any code before pushing to the main repo. Pull requests should be approved by the repo host (Bowen).

Revision and feedback expectations: if you believe someone's work contains an error or could be improved, offer constructive feedback. This means you should explain the error respectfully and provide a potential solution(s).

3. Accountability & Conflict Resolution

3.1 Three-Strikes Penalty Clause

Any team member who fails to uphold the terms of this charter is subject to the following graduated consequences. Strikes are cumulative across the duration of the project term and will be documented in meeting minutes.

Strike 1 - offending member receives written warning from Team Lead.

Strike 2 - offending member and instructor are notified in writing about members misconduct and the potential for voluntary exit.

Strike 3 - offending member and instructor are notified in writing, offending member voluntarily exits the group forfeiting any prior contributions.

A strike may be issued for (but is not limited to): missing a meeting without notice, failing to submit assigned work by the agreed deadline, or repeated failure to communicate. Strikes are issued by group consensus and must be recorded in the meeting minutes for the week they are issued.

3.2 Escalation & Removal

When to involve the instructor: written notification for second strike and again for third.

Conditions for requesting a team member's removal: approval by instructor.

Voluntary exit process: access to project work is removed upon issuing third strike, pending instructor approval the offending member will be considered to have voluntarily exited the group by way of signing this document. They also accept any further disciplinary actions deemed appropriate by teaching or department staff including, but not limited to, receiving a grade of INP, F, N for this Capstone session.

3.3 Conflict Resolution Process

Steps for resolving disputes within the team: notify the current Team Lead. They may decide to hold a vote at the next meeting. If the issue is raised at a meeting the current Team Lead will abstain from the voting process when necessary to avoid a split vote.
